

 The author(s) of each abstract is/are solely responsible for the content.*

ABSTRACTS

Turning Challenging Times into Opportunities

See Lian Ong (Malaysia)

Keywords: Global, construction, change, opportunities, surveyors

Abstract

The global economy and geo-political scenario is changing at a rapid pace. The construction and real estate industry is facing challenges from many fronts and it must adapt to the changing environment if it were to remain relevant and thriving. Key drivers for change are rapid urbanisation, e-economy, technology, climate change and sustainable development, globalisation, professional standards and capital flow, etc. How surveyors and surveying firms will cope with these challenges will determine their future, relevance and prosperity.